

Part 6: Sharing With Others

Sharing

The new Share button is an awesome, easy-to-use method for sharing your Curio creations with others. Clicking it will reveal a popover containing every method for sharing what's selected in Curio.

Options are provided so you can share the current section (or project if you only have one section), share the currently selected idea spaces, or share the currently selected figures.

1. First, options are listed for the currently selected section or project: printing, exporting (as image, PDF, HTML, RTF), mailing (as PDF or project), or presenting.
2. Next, options for the currently selected idea spaces: printing, exporting (as image, PDF, HTML, RTF), or mailing (as PDF or project extract).
3. Last, options for the currently selected figures: printing, exporting (as image, PDF, RTF), or mailing (as PDF). Based on the types of figures selected you may see additional options such as CSV exporting for tables and OPML and MMAP for mind maps.
